WHICH IS IT?

There is a difference of opinion as to the correct spelling of Lakeside's business thoroughfare.

Signposts indicate the name MAINE AVE., although business cards, stationery and advertising display the spelling MAIN STREET—and the words NORTH and SOUTH, are they necessary?

Here is a problem for members of the Chamber of Commerce to kick around.

United Cerebral Palsy Research Work Praised; $1,771,069. For Grants

Mr. John Miller, executive secretary of the Hard of Hearing Society, and former supervisor of a cerebral palsy school, Monroe, Louisiana, addressed members of United Cerebral Palsy last Wednesday, praising the great work of UCP in research.

Miller complimented members of the San Diego UCP affiliate on their program for local victims He pointed out the great need for services here, for the many cerebral palsy cases.

Outstanding in the national research program of UCP for 1955 include experiments by Dr. Robert Harrington at Los Angeles Orthopedic Hospital, in the use of chest respirators and positive-pressure breathing apparatus to help cerebral palsied children breathe more regularly, toward improvement in speech and eating habits.

The use of atomic devices to study and measure the progressive brain damage that occurs in some children, something never before possible, is the experiment of Dr. David Koskoff and associates at Montefiore Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Abner Wolf's experiment at Neurological Institute of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, N. Y., demonstrating that unobserved virus infection in pregnancy can cause brain damage in the unborn child.

Oxygen shortage in new born babies is a cause of cerebral palsy, according to experiments conducted by Dr. George W. Corner, Jr., and associates at Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, who developed an experimental device to give warnings of oxygen shortage during delivery.

According to George Heckard, president of San Diego County UCP affiliate, a total of 24 grants were made to scientists at 22 universities and hospital this year, in the amount of $1,771,062, to date.

THE LONG LONG LOOK

Palomar Observatory, one of the greatest scientific achievements in modern history, is located in San Diego's nearby back country. It is the home of the world's largest camera, which instrument will permit the moon to be photographed as if it were but 28 miles distant.

Ideal climatic conditions are essential to the successful operation of this observatory. After years of searching for a location offering clear atmospheric conditions throughout the year, officials selected Palomar Mountain.

On the site also will be found two other observatories, one is a reflecting telescope situated atop Palomar Mountain 68 miles northeast of San Diego via Escondido and U. S. Highway 395. Turning east at Escondido, the road signs are clearly marked.

Handy Hints

Farmers lose 55 Million Dollars every year because of bruised livestock that reaches the market. Most injuries are caused by boards or heavy sticks while driving them. But, here's an effective "persuader," or slapper, that drives them by frightening them—but won't hurt them.

You can make it with a three or four-foot section of an old inner-tube, and an old paint brush handle. If you have no old paint brush, then whittle out a handle from a soft board. Just slip the handle into the tube, as shown in the sketch, and tack it on.

Above: Roscoe E. Hazard, genial San Diego sportsman and well-known businessman, stands beside two exhibits in his fabulous museum of horse-drawn vehicles, the only museum of its kind in the West. The museum is open to the public daily. To reach the Hazard Museum drive east on Linda Vista Road to Azusa Street, turn right to Gaines Street, then right again to the museum.

Ambassador of Goodwill

Time and again Roscoe E. Hazard has proven his duty to the welfare of our country and city.

During the early days of World War II, he took active leadership in financing the first free canteen for servicemen at the Santa Fe Depot where his gracious wife and family spent countless hours preparing refreshments and entertainment for the serviceman returning from battle and those embarking for the cause of freedom.

Always a popular sportsman, Hazard built and developed the Polo Grounds in Mission Valley, which for many years was the center of sport events, and where he entertained convalescing servicemen.

He was honored with the regional presidency of the California State Horsemen's Association, during which he secured countywide riding trails for horse enthusiasts.

He was honored with the presidency of the Sheriff Rangers, was invited to ride his favorite mount in the New Year Rose Parade and has been honored as a parade Grand Marshal.

Few San Diegans have given so much for so many years to bring this city to the attention of the West Coast and the tourists of the nation.

Museum Is Asset

Museums are justified by keeping alive, as it were, objects of a by-gone-day, the memories they recall, and their educational value to the community.

How sweet memories are! As time goes by remembrances of happy events become sweeter and sweeter.

To stand among the relics at the Hazard Museum will bring back and enrich fond memories of those "golden days." Here you will renew old acquaintances as you reappraise the art of the wagonmaker and the wheelwright.

A flood of memories will rush over you as you study the old Surrey, a Stage Coach, an old Fire Engine or a dozen other old vehicles, a few of which are pictured here and held in awe by thousands of school children who visit regularly in school groups.

San Diego can be justly proud of this museum where has been preserved an important segment of our historic heritage.

Sports

Grossmont's Foothiller five humbled the Vikings of La Jolla 61 to 30, Monday, Dec. 19 on the San Diego hardwood to capture for the second year the Kiwanis unlimited consolation title.

The Foothiller cagers never trailed in the game as Curt Hardick and Lowell Raper paved the way for the victory. High point laurels go to Hardick, who hit the bucket for 15 points and Raper, with 13. Dick Williams and Denny Ladd slipped in 12 and 10 points to further the Foothiller cause. When the smoke had cleared away at the half the blue and gold crew from Grossmont led 28 to 9.

In the third quarter the Foothillers found life easy-going as they hit the hoop for an additional 25 points. The Vikings managed to squeeze out nine as they tried to penetrate the rugged defensive and offensive ranks of the Hillers. Hardick and Raper, with help from fine ball handling of Ladd, continued to stun the Vikings on their way to the consolation title.

The fourth quarter found the Hillers slacking up in the point column and the Vikings hitting the basket for 12 points, the most they had been able to gather in all evening.

Accepting Fate Helps You Relax

HENRY GOTTLIEB, St. Albans, Long Island, got out of bed one morning and fell back. The room started spinning, he was very dizzy, and had to lie down. After a few moments of not believing what had happened, he tried to get up again. This time he fell back for sure, his whole body throbbing, the furniture in the room spinning in front of him. What he didn't know at the time was that the previous several years of business worry and strain had suddenly climaxed itself, and that morning let go with a blast at his body.

From then on, in spite of the six "good doctors" who had attended him, he grew steadily worse. This decline went on for about six months with his not being able to eat, constantly vomiting, and getting very little sleep.

The sardonic moments came, when as prescriptions, doctors would say, "nothing wrong with you; go home and forget about it." In spite of the fact that there was "nothing wrong with him" he became steadily worse, until he seemed to reach the lowest ebb. Weakness had overtaken him for such a long time that he began to think end was near. Worry had brought him to this condition, fear of his health kept him there.

At last he felt that if he were going to die anyway, the devil with it all, let it come. He accepted that fact, tragic as it seemed. Then he relaxed. No miracle took place, but it was the definite turning point. From then on he recovered in spite of all the pills and doctors.

He thanks God that he is now back to normal again. He doesn't have to be told not to worry, for as you can see he has plenty of evidence to show the tragic effects worry can cause.

Today he has a good business, his own home, is married and has a fine young son, and it is difficult to realize that he ever indulged in his former mental attitude.

LAW IN ACTION

WITNESSES & PASSENGERS

You may be in a car involved in an accident, or witness such a crash. You want to do the right thing when such an accident takes place. So let us suggest that you have a plan of action for accidents.

A.—Check the condition of the injured and do what you can to get medical care for them if they need it.

B.—Next, identify the drivers. Make sure that you have their names, addresses and license numbers. Identify yourself to the people in the cars and to officers. Then talk to witnesses. Get their names, addresses and statements of the details of the accident. Write this down, on the spot. Make written notes of the main circumstances of the accident. Measure skid marks. Note the positions of the cars, etc.

Be specific. Don't say, "We had the green light," if you can honestly say, "I saw the light turn green when we were about 100 feet from the intersection." Record the date, time, place, weather conditions, kinds of auto and so on.

C.—Maybe you were injured. If there is a chance of this, have your doctor examine you.

Suppose you are a witness to an accident, but in no way involved in it. The law does not call for you to do anything about it. But fair play imposes certain duties upon you. You can help to see justice done by taking the following steps:

(a) Help the injured.
(b) Place signals on the highway to warn oncoming cars.
(c) Write down the license numbers of all cars.
(d) Write down the circumstances of the accident.
(e) Give your name and address to either driver and any injured person.
(f) Help the police.

You may be called as a witness. But it may take a long time before you are asked to tell what you saw and heard. Testify from careful notes made on the scene, and you will not get confused on the witness stand.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.

2nd ANNUAL PRESENTATION

SERAFINA

THE PLAY BY JEROME GERARD; MUSIC BY RENAN PREVOST

with additional numbers by
H. Adair Thomas

LOVE - INTRIGUE - COMEDY

A first rate tourist attraction must be original, entertaining, enjoyable and it must be seen only in one place. Tourists travel the world over to see unusual attractions. "Serafina" and "Stars in the West" can be annual attractions for San Diego. There has never been anything offered in San Diego, to compare with the possibilities of these Historical Operettas, excepting, the two great Expositions - 1915 and 1935, in our wonderful Balboa Park.

Why we offer these Operettas - The presentation of stage shows and etc., which have been produced for years, elsewhere, does not create prime tourist attractions of merit, for San Diego. Because as a rule tourists do not travel far to see stage shows, which can be seen at home or nearby. Or to hear music which is regularly used on the radio or on records for home playing. All of which, although, said shows and music are acceptable for amusement; but, they are in reality "common stuff" and seldom attract the well informed and enlightened tourist, seeking the unusual.

A tourist attraction of supreme merit is the Historical Operetta. And produced annually in a Civic Theatre located amidst the fine buildings of Balboa Park, which is world famous and the center of culture of San Diego. We have the Russ Auditorium which will suffice until a Civic Theatre can be provided. We have the talent and the most enjoyable operetta - "SERAFINA"

These Operettas are new, with appeal unlike the over-played stage presentations of the past years. So, We offer these original Operettas, they can be tourist attractions unsurpassed; because they have not been produced elsewhere, most of the music has not been published, or offered for public use. Here are two historical Operettas, in all that it implies, about our San Diego.

The historical facts presented in the Operettas are such as has never heretofore been presented. Participation is available for Patrons and Sponsors send communications to -
